

APPLICATION OF CAR DASH CAMERA

Nowadays many organized criminal gangs are staging automobile crashes, then they cause an accident and blame you, with each owner of their automobile then claiming whiplash injuries.

You could be drawn in a real accident where somebody else is guilty. It'll be your word against theirs if they then attempt to blame you. Road markings etc might facilitate the police decide who was the wrongdoer, however there's little the insurance corporations will do apart from to settle 50/50 if it comes down to conflicting opinions of whether or not somebody indicated or not.

An average policy spends around £400, however over £80 of this goes directly towards paying dishonest whiplash claims., Over £2 billion was paid out on whiplash claims last year alone ,this from a recent BBC survey.

The video is over quarter-hour long but it explains absolutely how they work, is a wonderful summary of how the in automobile cameras work. This is a review of 1 specific model, there are dozens offered to suit totally different wants and budgets. Because of their dashboard camera, there are several examples on video sharing sites of individuals being saved from insurance claims – here is one in all them below.

The victim would have had a terrible time proving their innocence if it wasn't for the dashboard camera there – the BMW driver would have denied deliberately reversing their automobile, and it might appear as if the victim had stopped focusing on and suddenly met with the rear of a stationary vehicle. With this video there will be little question, and also the claim can go nowhere.

One factor is avoiding a claim after an event happens , however maybe the most effective feature of this kind of camera is that it'll usually forestall “accidents” happening within the initial place. For the skilled gangs who build lots of cash staging these crashes, they're going to keep a glance out for cameras on the dashboard of potential targets.

They're going to haven't any possibility but to allow you to meet up with and wait on a more appropriate victim if they see one in your automobile – they apprehend they would never depart with it if they fight it with you. Interference is far better than the cure... this suggests your no claims bonus stays intact and you don't have to be compelled to pay any insurance excess. You don't have to have your automobile broken and risk injury!

Source: <http://www.otherarticles.com/automotive/automotive/33314-application-of-car-dash-camera.html>